

Graphic Echo Receiver Mounting: This mounting kit for the Graphic Receiver enables you to mount the Graphic handset on a tripod for easy viewing. If the bankstick legs are long enough then this mounting will double up as a weighing station. (banksticks not supplied).

Bivvy Light: This is a light operated from either a push button or by a pressure mat, powered by a separate 12 volt supply (not supplied). The pressure pad is placed at the side of the bedchair and the push button at the side of your pillow on the bedchair. When you have a run in the middle of the night, you swing your legs off the bedchair you touch the pressure mat and the light is switched "on" until you stand on the pressure mat again. The same results can be achieved by using the push button. Therefore you can switch the light "on" with the pressure mat, and turn it "off" with the push button and visa versa.
